Asks for Unlimited Increase in American Armed Strength

MAY IMPOSE CURBS

Authorizes Calling Up of Reserves, Nat'l Guard, As Necessary

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 19

President Truman today asked Congress for 10 billion dollars to win the Korean conflict and meet the threat of Communist aggression anywhere in the world. The President called for broad authority for an unlimited increase in American armed strength and industrial power. He disclosed that he has authorized Defense Secretary Johnson to call up the reserves and the National Guard as necessary. The President said he will ask for higher taxes, and that he will submit "a balanced tax program" having as its major aim "the elimination of profiteering." The Chief Executive asked legislation imposing curbs on consumer credit and speculation, and for priorities and allocations on vital materials, safeguards against hoarding, and limitations on non-military use of strategic material.

Mr. Truman warned that if prices rise sharply, he will not hesitate to impose price controls and rationing.

He told the world that the significance of the Korean war "cannot be overstated." Then he bluntly warned Russia that "new recourse to aggression in the world today might well strain to the breaking point the fabric of world peace."

The President also made it clear that the United States will refuse to accept the reported proposal by Soviet Premier Stalin to mediate in the Korean war in return for seating of a Chinese Communist delegation in the United Nations.

The President said that the United States is moving "as rapidly as possible to bring to bear on the fighting front larger forces and heavier equipment, and to increase

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

In Washington a Pentagon spokesman declared that the Army had definite information that some Soviet officers were advising the North Koreans.

A warning that the Cominform might be attempting to "justify in advance, aggressive action of some kind" in southeastern Europe was given by the United Nations Balkan Committee.

Government leaders, fearing that rearmament costs would be about 10 per cent higher because of rising commodity prices, were advising Mr. Truman to act to push back quotations on key commodities to the June 25 levels.

Thirteen major steel concerns have launched an expansion program that will cost more than $1,000,000,000 and will increase the nation's steelmaking capacity by 6,363,000 tons before the end of 1952.

MODERN SPRAYS CUT NUMBER OF WILD BEES

Bucks County Natural Science Ass'n is Told of Serious Shortage

HONEY ALWAYS MIXED

NEWTOWN, July 19 — Modern spraying methods have been cutting down the number of wild bees in the county, Mrs. William E. Camp, Wrightstown, told members of the Bucks County Natural Science Association Saturday.

Mrs. Camp said that there is a serious shortage of bees in Bucks county. "Honey in Bucks county is always mixed," she said, "but the bees do not use only one type of flower for a day's work and to fill the hives they must use more than one type of bloom." Destroying of certain plants by sprays have injured the bee population, she said.

Speaking on "Bees Are My Hobby," Mrs. Camp said that there are only six foods which do not need the help of the bee. "Corn, wheat, spinach, potatoes, lamb and fish are practically the only foods which do not need the bee's help," she said.

Mrs. Camp went on to explain the workings of a bee colony. Young housekeepers, nurses, guards and scouts are included in a typical hive as well as the queen, workers and drones.

A queen bee, she said, rules over 80,000 bees, and is longer, more

12 MINUTES WARNING AND EFFICIENT CIVIL DEFENSE WOULD REDUCE BY FIFTY PER CENT THE CASUALTIES CAUSED BY AN ATOMIC BOMB

This is the third of three articles by INS on the nation's civil defense program. It deals with the medical aspects of atomic warfare and the mammoth job of caring for casualties in an A-bomb blast.

By Phillips J. Peck

INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 19 — (INS)

Government officials estimate that with 12 minutes warning and an efficient civil defense the casualties in a city hit by an atomic bomb could be reduced 50 percent.

This is the basic factor behind U. S. planning—to prepare so adequately that the enemy attack, if not stopped, can be blunted and its destructive effect lessened.

Hiroshima and Nagasaki had no warning, no defense; over 100,000 were killed and nearly the same number injured.

The general panic and confusion in the two Japanese cities resulted in the loss of untold lives. Atomic flash burns—which could be reduced to zero with sufficient warning and shelter—accounted for 30 percent of the injuries.

Hiroshima and Nagasaki represented the most devastating effects of the A-bomb. Even at best, however, with the most superlative civil defense force, the results will be grim. A top U. S. report warns: "It would be unrealistic to prepare for fewer than 40,000 to 50,000 severely burned persons from a single atomic explosion."

The medical and health aspects of civil defense constitute one of the nation's toughest problems. It is largely a quantitative problem: To mobilize and transport physicians, nurses and supplies in enormous numbers; to transport, hospitalize and treat unprecedented numbers of casualties; to restore sanitation; to preserve the safety of food, milk and water following huge damage.

Measures to cope with such an emergency are still largely in the planning stage as are other aspects of civil defense. But progress is being made.

Doctors, nurses and dentists are undergoing training in the treatment of radiological casualties. Public health physicians, nurses, sanitary engineers and veterinarians are being instructed in problems of radiological contamination of food, water and environment.

A severe shortage of medical personnel would result, however, if World War III occurs and upwards of 50,000 physicians again are taken into the armed services. To meet this eventuality, the Red Cross may be called on to train 20 million first-aid workers.

Equally complex is the matter of medical supplies. Serious consideration is being given to establishing emergency supply depots throughout the nation in non-target areas.

First-aid and surgical supplies required in the first week following an atomic bomb disaster comparable to that at Hiroshima —

NEW RECORDS OF EARNINGS MADE BY RIVER SPANS

Total of $845,045.82 Income During First Half of 1950

$23,881.82 MORE HERE

Traffic Increase Over Bristol-Burlington Bridge Is Given As 23.40%

Continuing to establish new earning records, the Tacony-Palmyra and Burlington-Bristol bridges produced revenues of $845,045.82 during the first six months of this year.

Fred C. Norcross, Jr., secretary-treasurer of the Burlington County Bridge Commission, said this was an increase of $138,644.46 or 19.63 per cent over the same period in 1949.

The six-month revenue mark, Norcross said, was boosted by the record-breaking $184,687.86 taken in on both spans during June.

It was the highest monthly revenue since Burlington county assumed ownership of the two Delaware river spans, representing an increase of $31,772.21 or 20.78 per cent over the same month a year ago.

During the six-month period Norcross reported, a total of 3,099,792 automobiles, trucks and buses crossed the two bridges. This was an increase of 460,994 or 17.47 per cent over the similar period in 1949.

The June traffic counts was the highest in the history of the spans. U. S. Route 1, with 675,646 vehicles traveling over the bridges. Compared with June, 1949, it was an increase of 101,675 or 17.71 per cent.

Norcross also reported that the Burlington-Bristol span enjoyed the best month in its history during June.

A total of 88,075 vehicles crossed the spans, resulting in an increase of 29,425 or 26.30 per cent over the same month a year ago. The span set a new revenue mark when it earned $26,768.91, an increase of $5,823.56 or 27.80 per cent.

The high earnings recorded last month, Norcross said, increased the bridge commission's bank balances to $2,599,632.94.

A breakdown of the six-month report, from Jan. 1 to June 30, follows:

Tacony-Palmyra bridge: Revenues, $719,104, an increase of $111,762.64 or 18.99 per cent; traffic, 2,636,294, an increase of 376,979 or 16.64 per cent.

Burlington-Bristol bridge: Revenues, $125,941.82, an increase of $23,881.82 or 23.40 per cent; traffic, 460,994, an increase of 84,834 or 22.40 per cent.

VISHINSKY'S HEALTH

Foreign Minister Vishinsky of Russia is reported to be vacationing for his health, and the rumor mills are trying to make something of it.

But the favor of the Kremlin is as fickle as it ever was in the days of the czars, and there is more reason than usual to suspect that Vishinsky may really be on the skids this time.

The parallel with Litvinoff is suggestive. Litvinoff in the '30s was a strong supporter of the League of Nations. When he fell from favor, Russia adopted a tougher policy, abandoned the League, and made a deal with Hitler. If Moscow were now preparing to abandon the United Nations, Vishinsky could expect to join Litvinoff in obscurity.

Vishinsky has proved himself a master of vituperation and invective, and Americans may not think of him as a UN supporter. But when he was not obeying orders, Vishinsky tended to be an amiable, urbane diplomat, one might almost say of the old school. He acted hostile only during working hours. His bosses may feel that he has become tainted with "bourgeois cosmopolitanism."

There are, at any rate, plenty of straws in the wind suggesting that the Russians may be about to pull out of the UN. They are virtually out now, for that matter, having boycotted most UN agencies since January.

Soviet withdrawal, followed by the other Iron Curtain countries, should surprise no one. In that event, Vishinsky's health is not likely to improve.

A LONG, HARD PULL

In the light of the news dispatches of the last two weeks, the American people had come to believe what Washington officialdom is now admitting—that there is a long, bloody and difficult operation ahead of the United States in Korea.

In high Pentagon circles consensus of the second-guessing now seems to be that the conflict will last well into the fall. But that estimate must be open to instant revision. If North Korea's supporters in Russia and China should join in the fighting, a full scale war could easily result.

That is not an impossibility, as attested by reports that 200,000 communist soldiers are assembling on the Manchurian border and will be subject to call.

Moreover, there is no certainty U. S. preparations will move forward according to schedule. There is general knowledge of what this country can do to provide reinforcements of men, equipment and materials, but the assistance to come from other members of the United Nations remains an uncertain quantity.

Americans must steel themselves against more bad news—retreats, even defeats, and growing lists of casualties. The enemy's forces are tough and resolute, they outnumber U. S. forces, and this country has the disadvantage

12 Minutes Warning Would Reduce Casualties Caused By A-Bomb

which resulted in about 80,000 casualties—would fill 200 railroad boxcars. The cost would be about $3,000,000, a prohibitive figure if each city were to build such a stockpile.

Storage, however, is not the answer to the problem of blood. Blood derivatives such as plasma can be stored but whole blood, necessary in a large number of casualties, can be preserved for only 3 or 4 weeks. Researchers are now trying to solve this problem.

Officials estimate that one A-bomb on one large city would create a disaster that would require more whole blood than the nation now produces in a year. The total annual supply of blood and blood derivatives is between two and two and a half million pints.

Dr. Norvin C. Klefer, health resources director of civil defense planning, reports that the only recourse is a highly efficient organization ready to stage a mass blood procurement from persons outside the attacked area.

Contrary to a popular misconception, radiation casualties can be treated. There is little that can be done in case of a lethal dose of radiation, but many less-exposed casualties can be saved by:

Good medical and nursing care; whole blood transfusions; control of infection; intravenous feeding and control of bleeding.

Moreover, only 15 to 20 percent of the deaths in Japan were caused solely by nuclear radiation. The remaining 80 to 85% were caused by so-called "old-fashioned" injuries—injuries suffered in the collapse of buildings and by burns.

Many Japanese might have been saved had proper medical care been available. But it was totally disorganized for days. About 70 percent of Hiroshima's fire-fighting equipment was destroyed, the water supply disrupted and streets clogged with debris.

One of the most important parts of our civil defense program, federal officials believe, is the vital necessity for cities to plan mutual aid. If Washington were bombed, it would need help from the undamaged outside—its suburban areas and from cities as distant as Baltimore, Philadelphia and Richmond.

Sales and Service, asked $21,301 and $21,796, respectively. Slack bid $25,310 for the plumbing work.

J. M. Blew, architect for the new school, answered questions of the board members after the bids were made public. The board decided to consult Blew again at a meeting next Tuesday before any bids are accepted.

An approval of a $150,000 bond issue by Morrisville voters made possible the new school. It will be located next to the Robert Morris athletic field in the third ward, and will be of colonial brick design.

CHILDREN NEED GUIDANCE WITH SLEEPING HABITS

By Miss Frances Vanney
(Home Economics Extension Representative)

One of the chief responsibilities of parents is to see that their children get enough sleep. During the summer, this frequently presents a real challenge to parents. They must remember that the amount of sleep needed varies with the age of the child. The child's actions usually indicate whether he is getting enough sleep.

A new-born baby sleeps about 20 out of every 24 hours. At this stage in his development, it's a case of feeding and bathing him between sleep periods. As the baby grows, waking hours increase and sleeping hours decrease.

Children of pre-school age need 12 hours of sleep at night. Child specialists suggest that the afternoon nap of 1½ to 2 hours be continued until the child is around five years old. Some children out-grow their nap by gradually reducing their napping time. More often it happens that a child will sleep some days and other days he will not rest at all.

If several sleepless days follow each other, it's best not to jump to the conclusion that the child no longer needs a nap. Possibly he is tired but hasn't had an opportunity to sleep. With a regular rest period each day, the child can doze off if he is tired, or rest quietly for at least half an hour. During these active summer days, many children are so eager to play that they dislike taking time for a nap. Therefore, it is important to place emphasis on relaxation rather than sleep. It is often necessary for a mother to help her child get "settled down" for a nap or at bedtime. Telling the child to hurry and rest so there will be time for play will only defeat your purpose. Regularity and quiet play preceding periods of sleep or rest will be of most benefit to him.

Children want to be grown up and staying up late appeals to them as a sign of being grown up. This is true particularly in summer. It's hard to get them to see the value of sleep for themselves.

Children don't like to break away from the rest of the family; they seem to be afraid they might miss something. Children feel alone and left out if they are tucked away in bed and the rest of the family is enjoying itself in another part of the house. Child care specialists believe it helps if the child is made to feel he really counts, that he is loved and wanted.

When parents make a child feel they are not trying to get him out of the way, parting is easier and sleep comes more quickly. Reading a story or sharing some experience together help to relieve tension and strain and excitement from play.

HELPERS

NEW YORK — (INS) — Thanks to electrical energy, the average U. S. factory worker now has the equivalent of 13 full-time assistants to help him earn his daily bread. It's a matter of horsepower as well as manpower, says E. C. Brodin, director of manufacturing research for SKF Industries, Inc. American factories have installed horsepower of 18,000,000, and there are 14,000,000 industrial workers in the country. Since one horse-power is mathematically equivalent to 10 working men, that gives the average man at the machine the aid of 13 other "men".

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

THANKS to the alertness of Mrs. Housewife one of the latest advances in the food field—prepackaging of meats—is really catching on fast.

It wasn't so long ago that the cellophane wrapping of meat cuts was tried in an experimental way. The customers liked it so much it has been introduced in many food stores throughout the country. While prepackaging isn't available everywhere, the food people are making efforts to spread this popular idea to more and more stores.

Prepackaging is a boon to the housewife. No more waiting on lines at the meat counter. Now she merely steps up to meat, refrigerated display cases and picks out the cut of meat she needs. She finds it waiting for her wrapped in cellophane and neatly labeled as to price and weight. Here's hoping the prepackaging idea will ease your shopping problem.

Meanwhile, A & P's Service for Homemakers recommends a savory Roast Stuffed Shoulder of Lamb for this Sunday's dinner. To prepare this popular dish have the shoulder bone removed from a three- or four-pound shoulder of lamb and sew on two sides. Leave one side open for stuffing. Season with salt and pepper. Fill the cavity in the meat with your favorite stuffing and sew or shower edges together. (A good stuffing can be made by moistening one and a half cups of soft bread crumbs with a slightly beaten egg and a quarter cup of butter. Season and mix well.)

There'll be ample here for six people. Lemonized potatoes, mint jelly and a pineapple and cream cheese salad would make appetizing companions for this main dish.

For a real dessert treat the family will appreciate a wedge of blueberry pie with ice cream and a cup of tea or coffee.

our naval and air superiority." He warned, however:

"But it will take time, men and material to slow down the forces of aggression, bring those forces to a halt and throw them back."

He made no prediction as to when victory will come. He pledged that the United States will "increase its military strength and preparedness not only to deal with the aggression in Korea but also to increase our common defense, with other free nations, against further aggression."

Mr. Truman said that as soon as possible he will ask Congress for funds to provide additional assistance "to increase the strength of certain other free nations whose security is vital to our own."

The historic message, 7,500 words in length was the second largest Mr. Truman ever has sent to Congress.

The President will follow it up with a radio-television address to the nation tonight at 10:30 p. m., EDT.

know that men like meat and men like pies, and along these two lines home economist Reba Staggs offers suggestions.

According to this home economist, it is the wise bride who purchases a roast larger than needed for one meal. Leftover cooked meat may appear in new dress for numerous interesting dishes. For instance, it may be chopped, then mixed with fine cracker crumbs and whole kernel corn and baked in pre-cooked (about 5 minutes) hollowed green peppers.

Julienne strips of cooked beef, veal, pork or lamb are the hearty ingredient of a man dish salad or clever individual casseroles or meat pies. Cubes of cooked meat may be creamed with vegetables and served over toast tips, toasted English muffins, hot biscuits, crisp Chinese noodles or in a noodle or rice ring.

As for prescribed pie desserts, the bride will find pastry mix (recipe below) stored in her refrigerator a wonderful aid. Instead of combining the ingredients for each pie separately she can prepare mix sufficient for 8 pie shells. Shortened with lard, the tenderest, flakiest pastry can be hers to proudly present to her new husband.

Homemade Pastry Mix

4 teaspoons salt

2 cups lard for hard wheat flour

Add salt to flour. Cut lard into flour and salt with a fork or pastry blender, until the crumbs are about the size of small peas. Cover, store in refrigerator until ready to use. Mixture will keep at least a month in refrigerator. Yield: 8 single pie crusts.

For single pie crust, add 2 to 4 tablespoons cold water to 1½ cups Homemade Pastry Mix, and for double pie crust 4 to 6 tablespoons cold water to 2 cups Homemade Pastry Mix.

ANTICIPATE PUBLIC MEETING OF COUNCIL

To Give Newtown Residents Chance To Make Zoning Suggestions

ORDINANCE PROPOSED

NEWTOWN, July 19.—It is expected that Newtown borough council will hold a public meeting in September to give the public an opportunity to make further suggestions to the proposed zoning ordinance. A draft of the ordinance, along with maps and other material, has been turned over to borough council. The zoning commission, of which J. Stanley Lee is the chairman, held two public hearings, and very little exception was taken to the proposed regulations. Some property owners suggested some minor changes which have been made.

After the hearing in September it is believed that council will then formally adopt the ordinance.

Zoning in Newtown township became effective in June, and it is expected that the borough will also adopt a zoning regulation.

JOHN F. MORASCH

NOTICE

In the Orphans' Court of Bucks County, Pennsylvania.

RE: Petition of the Trustees of Penns Manor Chapel for leave to sell certain real estate situated in Falls Township, Bucks County, Pennsylvania, and make distribution of proceeds from sale.

To all parties in interest: Take notice that on June 5, 1950 the petition of Barton S. Ivins, et al., Trustees, was presented to the above Court, setting forth that the Penns Manor Chapel property was originally deeded by Onias Mershon and Amanda Mershon, his wife, to William Ivins, et al., Trustees, said indenture dated August 11, 1886, and recorded in Bucks County in Deed Book No. 229, page 291 &c.

That the petitioners are the Trustees of Penns Manor Chapel, having been elected in conformity to the provisions of said Deed of Trust.

That said section heretofore mentioned, provided, inter alia: "To have and to hold the said Chapel and Lot of Land herebefore granted unto the said Trustees, and premises hereby granted or mentioned and intended to be granted unto the said Trustees, to the said Trustees, their successors and assigns to and for the only proper use and purpose of the said Chapel, their successors and assigns forever."

In trust nevertheless to the uses upon the trusts and upon the several uses, intents and purposes hereinafter expressed of and concerning the same, that is to say, to hold the said Chapel and Lot of Land forever and to be used and enjoyed by the citizens and people of the vicinity and neighborhood as a place where Lectures, Sunday Schools and other Religious and Literary Meetings shall and may from time to time hereafter forever be held.

That the particular section referred to by the conveyors as the "neighborhood or vicinity" is that certain part of Falls Township known as Penns Manor or The Manor and of recent years many of the members in the section have purchased for large farm and industrial operations, and that there is planned a large industrial steel plant that will completely surround the Penns Manor Chapel property.

That the original purpose of the conveyors will be frustrated by the fulfillment due to the proposed changes in the Penns Manor vicinity and the trust should be terminated and distribution of the proceeds made as nearly as possible in conformity with the conveyors' original intention.

That the petitioners have received a very advantageous offer for the sale of the property to Manor Real Estate and Trust Company, Inc., $30,000.00, but that no power of sale was given to the Trustees in the original Deed of Trust.

That the price offered is a full and fair price and better than could be obtained at public sale.

That the petitioners have made diligent inquiry and have ascertained that former members of the Penns Manor Chapel have associated themselves with various churches and literary organizations, and further, feel that the conveyors' original intention would be most closely followed by making distribution in equal parts and shares to the following:

Methodist Church of Morrisville, Pa.
First Presbyterian Church of Morrisville, Pa.
Baptist Church of Morrisville, Pa.
Episcopal Church of Morrisville, Pa.
Methodist Church of Fallsington, Pa.
Episcopal Church of Fallsington, Pa.
Methodist Church of Tullytown, Pa.
Emilie Methodist Church of Emilie, Pa.
Calvary Baptist Church of Bristol, Pa.
Fallsington Free Library of Fallsington, Pa.

Said petition prays for the approval by said Court of the sale to Manor Real Estate and Trust Company, Inc., and distribution of the proceeds as aforementioned.

The Court has fixed Monday, the Seventh day of August, A. D. 1950, at Nine o'clock A. M., Standard Time, at the Court House, Doylestown, Pa., as the time and place of hearing, at which time and place all parties in interest may attend and be heard.

AUTO BOYS WINS OVER FIFTH WARD IN EXTRA INNING

In an extra inning fracas on Leedom's field, the Auto Boys team won over the Fifth Ward Sporting Club, 10-9, in a Bristol Softball League contest. The victory put the Auto Boys team one-half game away from sixth place.

The contest started out to be a hard-hitting affair with Auto Boys taking a 4-1 lead in the second but Fifth Ward coming back to get in front, 7-4. However, the Auto Boys ten scored four times in their half of the inning to make the count, 8-7. Fifth Ward took a one-run margin by registering twice in the fourth.

In the last half of the seventh, Auto Boys tied the score and won on the eighth on a hit by Ralph Linck, a single by Bob Elker, a walk to "Bill" Lewis which loaded the bases and Bob Wright's bunt which scored Linck.

Lewis was the winning hurler. He relieved Leon Plavin in the third canto. Henry Liberatore went the distance for the Warders.

Fifth Ward had 13 hits, seven off Plavin and six off Lewis. The winners had 10 hits with Wright getting three.

2ND WARD WINS 12-INNING GAME

In a long drawn out affair, Second Ward won over Jefferson A. C., 8-7, in a Bristol Suburban Softball League game last evening on Memorial Park field. Twelve innings, five over-time, were required to decide the winner. By virtue of its triumph, Second Ward went into undisputed possession of first place in the circuit.

Second Ward won the game with two out in the 12th after Jefferson had completed a double-play which seemed to end a threatening score. Leo Fiorelli had opened the frame with and went to second on an error. Henry Accardi lined to Tony Cauti and Fiorelli was also nabbed at second for the twin-killing. But "Sammy" Sottile singled and "Jimmy" Sottile did likewise. The throw-in to the infield was muffed and Sammy scored with the winning run.

The game was one of the best played this season with both "Amy" Lewis and "Chick" Stansky pitching fine ball. Stansky was the winner although he would have won the game in regulation inning but for a pass he gave up in the fifth. The walk scored Ray Pierandozzi with the deadlocking run.

Second Ward made fifteen hits in the tilt with Gene Barbetta getting four out of five. Jefferson had seven hits with "Vic" Cauti and Tony Cauti getting two each.

Nurse Born Here Lands in Korea

Her sister, Miss Jennie McElroy, of the same address, said to the Courier that Capt. McElroy was in Japan for two weeks. She chose the Orient as her assignment after completing a tour of duty at Fort Meade, Md.

Miss McElroy said her sister was home on a pre-overseas furlough on May 26. She had received two letters from her, one telling of Capt. McElroy's arrival in Japan, and another of the sailing for Korea.

During the last war Capt. McElroy served in Pearl Harbor, and after the war spent some time in Germany. She returned to this country in 1949 and was stationed at Walter Reed Hospital and Fort Meade.

Capt. McElroy spent her early years in Bristol and went to school here for a few years. The family later moved to Morrisville. She has an uncle living in Bristol, Charles F. Walker, 607 Bath street.

The captain received her nurse's training at Hackensack, N. J., and later served at the Methodist Hospital, Philadelphia, and Manhattan Hospital, New York.
